Disneyland and New York City Pass Prize Winners Announced

Ten new IEP applicants to the Work USA and Summer Camp USA programs were thrilled to receive news that they had won IEP's latest competition, walking away with their choice of a day pass to Disneyland or a one day New York Pass.

The competition was open to those who submitted their applications and deposits for either program before the 30 November 2009.

The winners were contacted via phone and email-the news making their impending working holiday that little bit more exciting.

Work USA participant Peseth Suong was not even aware he was entered into the competition so was surprised and excited when he returned home from a holiday in Cambodia, to discover he was a winner.

"I was completely surprised by the fact that I had won the competition. I had little knowledge of it even existing but with my application for the WUSA program well under way, this prize adds to the anticipation that I soon will be realising my dream of living in the Big Apple and I can't wait to see all the attractions!" Peseth said.

Another Work USA participant, Hannah Cooper, has her sights set on New York and will be taking full advantage of the New York Pass she won in the competition. It will be the perfect way to kick start her working holiday in America, helping her get acquainted with her new city.

"I'm really excited to work over there," Hannah said, "I think it will be unlike anything we have here in Australia. I like a really fast-paced lifestyle so I think I'm going to the right place, New York."

One Summer Camp USA applicant, Kirsten Meade, was well aware that the competition was underway and ensured her application was in on time. She was still surprised to be one of the lucky winners

"I couldn't believe it! I never thought I would actually win it. The competition did encourage me to get my application in that little bit quicker." Kirsten said.

Although she is still undecided whether she would prefer the Disneyland or New York pass, Kirsten is keen to visit both places so is happy with either prize. She is most looking forward to the adventure of camp.

"I'm hoping to teach fitness at camp," Kirsten said, "I'm looking forward to meeting a whole heap of new people and travelling all over the place."

The Disneyland day pass gives access to all the classics like Space Mountain or Splash Mountain roller-coasters and the spinning teacups, the winners will be able to re-capture their childhood for a day at magical Disneyland.

The 1 Day New York pass offers free access to tonnes of sight-seeing attractions, from the Empire State Building and Madame Tussaud's Wax museum to the Museum of Modern Art and Statue of Liberty to name just a few. Winners of this prize also get to skip some of the queues meaning they'll have more time to cram even more fun into their day.

IEP offers their congratulations to the winners from both the Summer Camp USA and Work USA programs and look forward to helping them with the rest of their working holiday plans.
