Lots of opportunity to work in Canada this ski season

As the icy chill of winter settles in across Australia, many of us face the colder months with a sense of dread. Gone are the balmy nights, barbeques on the deck and long days on the beach. But for many people, the icy chill brings with it a sense of anticipation, as the ski season is once again upon us and for many young Australians; it's the time they start planning a winter escape overseas!

Non-profit work and travel organisation, International Exchange Programs (IEP) is seeing interest soar in their Work & Ski Canada program. Not just from those seasoned ski bunnies amongst us, but from people wanting to escape the city lifestyle. Why spend an icy, sunless working holiday in London when you could be living it up in one of Canada's leading resorts?

The vast range of employers offered by IEP means there's plenty of options and destinations to suit everyone. From the appropriately named Sunshine Village, where employees spend their free time (and ski breaks) checking out the magnificent Rocky Mountains, to the awesome Grouse Mountain, a day resort located just a stone's throw from downtown Vancouver where recruits can enjoy the best of both worlds!

For something completely different, Asessippi Ski Area and Resort offers participants the opportunity to escape the tourist trail and spend a season living in small town Canada in Russell, Manitoba where their weekends are spent ice fishing and dog sledding with the local towns folk.

Employment is also available at Panorama Mountain Village, Marmot Basin and The Banff Centre, with more employers expected to be announced in the coming months.

IEP's Work & Ski Canada Job Fair will be held in Brisbane, Sydney and Melbourne throughout July and August and applications are open now. Applicants are encouraged to apply early to avoid missing out.

For further information or to apply, head to www.iep.org.au or contact IEP at info@iep.org.au or on 03 9329 3866.
